

São Paulo School of Advanced Science on Scenarios and Modelling on Biodiversity and Ecosystem Services to Support Human Well-Being

Maíra Formis de Oliveira

São Paulo State Secretary of Agriculture, Biodiversity Department, Brazil mairaf@sp.gov.br; mairaformis@gmail.com

Maíra was graduated in Biological sciences at Universidade de São Paulo and have a Master degree in Protected Areas by Universidad Autónoma de Madrid. Her dissertation focused on ecosystems services and traditional hunt management in a protected area in Catalunya. She has been working as a environmental specialist at São Paulo State Secretary Environment since 2009 and recently at Secretary of Agriculture as a Director of Environmental Projects Center, which is focused on implementation of the Brazilian Forest Code at State level.

The main research interests are develop tools to help the implementation of environmental public policies, especially with landscape management, protected areas and tropical ecosystems conservation, sustainable management and restoration.